Letter from the Executive Director

Growing to Meet the Needs of Our Community in God's Perfect Timing

Dear Friends and Faithful Supporters,

It is with deep gratitude that I reflect on this past year and all that God has done at Lebanon Rescue Mission. Once again, He has made His perfect timing unmistakably clear.

Across our community — and across the nation — the need has never been greater. We are seeing an incredible and growing demand for safe, dignified housing for seniors, as well as for mothers and children seeking stability, protection and hope. These are not abstract needs; they are faces, names and stories that come to our doors every day. For years, we have prayed for wisdom, provision and direction as we sought to respond faithfully.

In God's perfect timing, the answer is unfolding now. The development of our new facility is not the result of our planning. Rather, it is a clear reflection of God's design—uniting the right property, the right building and the right moment to meet the needs He placed before us. Each step has confirmed that this work is His.

Our recent capital campaign has lifted Lebanon Rescue Mission in every way — strengthening our capacity, renewing our vision and reminding us that when God calls, He also provides. Your generosity and partnership have been instrumental in this journey, and we are profoundly thankful.

As we look ahead, we do so with confidence, knowing that the same God who brought us here will continue to guide every step forward.

In HIS Service,

Susan A. Blouch
Executive Director

Finding Safety and Rest at Agape Family Shelter

Agape Family Shelter has been a home for hundreds of women and children in need. The structure, support and nurturing provided here is what makes it a true safe haven for families like Jessica's.

Jessica* and her young child came to us after a faulty electrical wire burned her home to the ground. With no family, no support system, and nowhere to turn, Jessica had no choice but to start calling shelters. Her interview at Agape was the first time she had ever set foot in a shelter, much less stayed in one.

Because Jessica had lost most of her possessions, she arrived with very little. The staff at Agape made sure she and her child were warm, fed, and clothed. Their first few nights at the shelter weren't easy, but over time, Jessica began to develop a routine and meaningful relationships with shelter staff. She also spent time in counseling and Bible study, which helped grow her faith.

Her goal is to move into a new home of her own, but Jessica knows she can always count on the staff and program at Agape. Our program has been a home for hundreds of women and children in need. But the structure, support, and nurturing at Agape are what make it a true refuge, a safe haven.

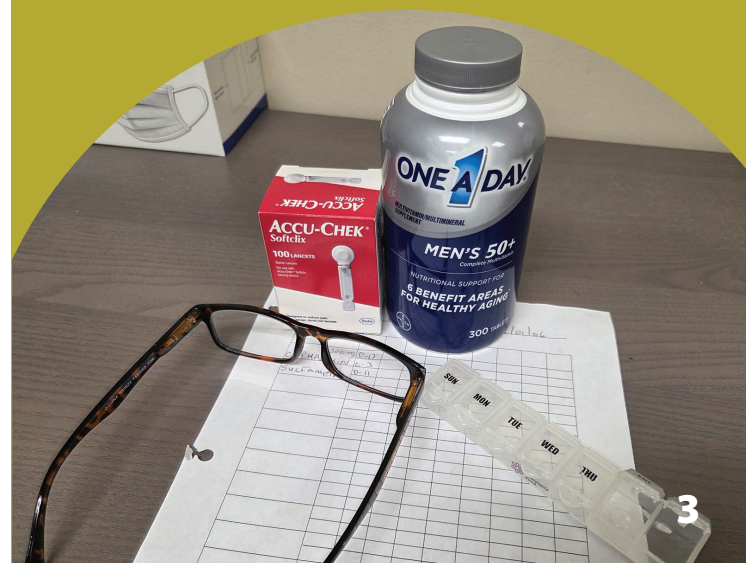

Healing Hearts at Lebanon Free Clinic

Earlier this year, a man came to our clinic feeling overwhelmed and discouraged. He was struggling with depression, significant weight gain, and a sense of hopelessness. Isolated and unable to keep steady work, he did not know where to turn.

At the Lebanon Free Clinic, he found a safe haven to begin again. He was assigned to the care of volunteer providers Dr. Hayes and Dr. Davidson. With regular follow-ups, his progress started small with short daily walks, and learning to prepare healthier meals. He also received gentle, consistent encouragement from providers who believed in him.

That encouragement and those small steps led to real change. He lost more than 100 pounds! His mood improved. His confidence returned. Today, he has been working steadily in a job for more than 6 months, and continues to build a healthier, more hopeful future.

His progress reflects the importance of continuing to provide a safe, consistent place where patients can take the time they need to heal and rebuild their lives with the support they need.

Served With Joy: Mobile Senior Pantry

One of the greatest blessings of our ministry is witnessing transformation come full circle. In the kitchen, we often welcome men who have graduated from the Men's Discipleship Program back into the Mission as staff members. Once the recipients of care, they now serve others with gratitude and purpose.

Most recently, Samuel* joined our kitchen team, working part-time. He absolutely loves what he does. His joy is unmistakable as he serves meals and watches God provide daily for the Mission and each individual who walks through our doors. His smile brightens the kitchen and lifts the spirits of the men receiving their meals.

Samuel has also served with the Mobile Senior Pantry, where he was warmly welcomed by seniors who quickly noticed his kindness and joy. Everywhere he goes, he brings a sense of God's light and love.

It is a powerful reminder of how Jesus changes hearts and lives. In God's perfect timing, those who once needed a safe haven often become the ones helping to provide it for others.

Lives Transformed Through Men's Ministry

Carlos* came to the Lebanon Rescue Mission during a Code Blue alert, seeking warmth and safety from the cold.

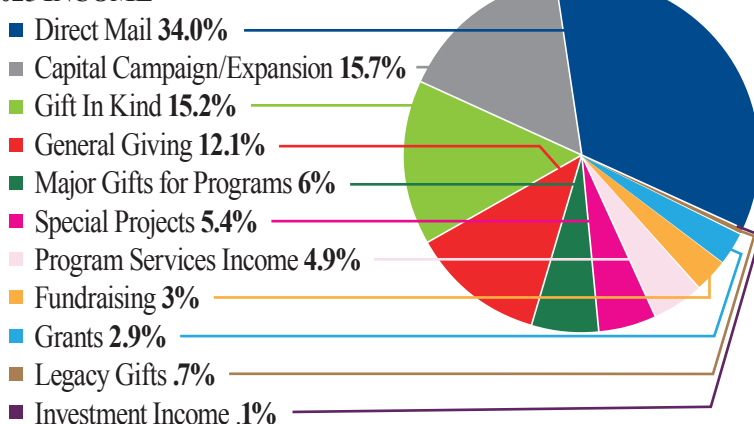

For more than ten years, he had been living in a building without running water. Carlos has a significant learning disability and has often been taken advantage of by those around him.

At the Mission, Carlos found more than shelter. Through the care and advocacy of our case management team, he was connected with local community partners, opening the door for long-term supportive housing. Our staff also secured a Representative Payee to help manage his income to ensure he is financially protected moving forward.

In God's perfect timing, Carlos found a place where he is seen, valued and protected. His story reminds us why continuing to be a safe haven means so much.
